Paid cash for a Chevy Cruze with miles. The salesman assured me that whatever the engine cooling issue is, it would be taken care of by 3PM the next day. The vehicle has now been in for repairs 4 times for a total of 20 days but the problem still exist. The dealership only solution is to refill the coolant reservoir as they continue to deny any problem with the vehicle. I have to keep a gallon jug of coolant in the vehicle as the coolant reservoir runs dry after miles. The vehicle smells like coolant and white smoke comes from the exhaust when I start the engine. They have lied to me from day one and they have no intention of repairing this used lemon they sold me. I would not recommend this dealership to my worst enemy It is equipped with a 8 Speed Automatic transmission. It is offered As-Is, extended warranty is available. I don't know where to start on the unprofessionalism of this dealership and these three men Corey Silver, Josh Hoffart, Brandon Brock I guess we should go back to August 17th when I boarded a plane and flew to San Antonio to purchase a vehicle. I walked into the dealership with my eyes set on a Jaguar F-Pace. They then showed me multiple others that were around 33kk. I then told them I was going to go purchase another Jaguar down the street at Rick Cavender Toyota for 28k Listed online. Cavender Toyota their sister dealership. The manager walked away and came back and told me he had just called that dealership and they sold theirs as well. I then walked outside and called the dealership to see if they actually did sell it and they put me on hold then asked me my name which I thought was strange I told them then they said they had sold it that morning. I hung up and had my friend call them from a local Texas number and they told him it was still for sale he could come test drive it now. This is all besides the point and a typical sales tactic but I am opening with this to show you the start of the lies and deception from the management of this dealership. I decided to stay at this dealership after the manager chased me out the door because I had ordered an Uber and walked out. After 1 hour of negotiations, I ended up buying a Jaguar F-pace fully loaded. They told me to wait another week or so and it should arrive. I let three weeks go by October I contact the dealership they said they would find out what's wrong and get back in touch with me. I finally get a call in November. I then asked them "okay what does that mean? They said they would get back to me and let me know. Another 2 weeks go by I get really mad. I call the dealership and demanded an immediate response. They then told me that "They had been trying to get into contact with me to go get a VIN inspection" Which I was waiting to hear back from them. Which was a complete lie. No emails or voice mails left? I was at the airport checking in heading to Mexico. They then contacted me and said "oh wait we need the physical copy. I am telling you this because finally 3 months later they asked me to do one thing and I did it within minutes for them. November 23 Brandon Brock at Audi gets the Vin inspection. Mid December Weeks go by. Thinking all is in the clear. I will have my tag any second. I contact the dealership they say they're not sure why I don't have it. That they will reach back out to me and let me know. End of December. I call the dealership and go crazy on them. I demand to talk to the dealership owner Rick Cavender. The next day I receive a personal phone call from Rick who is completely embarrassed by the events that led up to this. I also contact National DMV at this point to find out what's going on. I called him out on it and then he apologized I told him I talked to national DMV they said they have been waiting since August. Then he apologized and said "These things happen more often than you think" HA! Yeah sure buddy. I contact Brandon to see what's up and Brandon says. Cox it appears there are additional fees that were not covered but we as the dealership are going to take care of these fees for you this time so don't worry about it. We will cover you. I completely called him out on this. He had no response and tried to play it off blaming covid again. Today is January 11th, Days since the purchase of my vehicle from Audi Dominion. I have yet to receive my tag and title for the car. This dealership is an embarrassment to Rick Cavender and his name. Rick was the nicest guy in the world I can't believe he has employees like this that work for him. I would never in a million years step a foot into this dealership again. Last but not least Brandon Brock illegally just continues to print me temporary tags under the dealership's name which is illegal. As I should have only received 1 temp tag under my personal name. That's 30 days. I learned that from DMV Texas when filing my official complaint. Maybe just maybe one day I will receive my tag. Contact the dealer for delivery details, restrictions and costs. The stitching is straight. There are no squeaks or ticks. There were no paint overspray issues. I was lucky. And it drives as advertised. You can pick when to be naughty or nice. AND you get to see you engine by turning your head around. Also, the digital rear-view is quite good.
